Silver Surfer (1987-1998) #8

The Moroccan crisis of 1905 in which Germany again tried to intervene in Morocco against French encroachment, might have led to war if Germany with the encouragement of the kaiser had not given way. The author describes himself as being thoughtful and introspective, but I come away from this piece with the feeling that he lacks the courage to honestly explore his thoughts.

regarding "The Big Lie" All this was inspired by the principle--which is quite true in itself--that in the big lie there is always a certain force of credibility; because the broad masses of a nation are always more easily corrupted in the deeper strata of their emotional nature than consciously or voluntarily, and thus in the primitive simplicity of their minds they are more readily fall victims to the big lie than the small lie, since they themselves Black tell small White
